PROJECTS

Machine Learning Model for Wine Quality Prediction Using Python / Jupyter Notebook / Logistic Regression

- Developed a machine learning model to predict wine quality using 10-15 variables from a dataset.
- Gathered, cleaned, and visualized the data using confusion matrixes to ensure quality and accuracy for the model.
- Trained and evaluated the model using regression analysis, Random Forest Classifier, and Support Vector Classifier (SVC) to optimize predictions.

AI for Sentiment Analysis Model Using Python / Jupyter Notebook / Top-down approach

- Created a sentiment analysis model using the VADER library in Python, implemented through a top-down approach. The model was trained, evaluated, and fine-tuned to effectively analyze customer responses. It is currently being used for survey analysis, providing valuable insights into customer feedback.

Genetic Algorithm In Python

- Developed a genetic algorithm in Python to optimize solutions through selection, crossover, and mutation processes. Used a population of individuals represented by binary chromosomes and evolved them to maximize fitness over generations.

E-waste Management Research (SPSS, Google Forms, MS Excel)

- Completed a final project for the HND program, gathering and analyzing qualitative and quantitative data using relevant utilities and techniques. Produced a report with data visualizations, results, and suggestions.
